Color Management Resources

- pnwcmug.com/index.html Pacific Northwest Color Management User Group
Our home page, still under construction – but will be the go-to source for everything related to our group.
- www.color.org/ International Color Consortium
The official site of the ICC – enough said. There is so much information here you will never actually get through all of it – but if you haven't yet, get started today!
- www.swop.org SWOP – Specifications Web Offset Publications
The official site of the SWOP organization for printers and prepress professionals.
- www.gracol.com/ GRACoL : General Requirements for Applications in Commercial Offset Lithography
The official site of the GRACoL organization, which provides standards for the printing industry.
- www.adobeforums.com/cgi-bin/webx?14@@.eea5b31 Color Management – Adobe User to User Forums
User forum on color management – another great forum to subscribe to (I'd recommend the digest version, which gives you all the articles of the day, once a day, delivered straight to your inbox).
- lists.apple.com/archives/colorysync-users/2006 Colorysync-Users Mailing List
This is an archive of articles posted from this year – just click on the month you want to check out. If you don't subscribe to this list – do (you'll find the page to subscribe @ lists.apple.com/mailman/listinfo/colorysync-users/).
- www.creativepro.com/author/home/40.html Creativepro.com – Authors – Bruce Fraser
Co-author of Real World Color Management, Bruce Fraser's articles are indispensable and range from color management to Photoshop savvy tricks and tips.
- www.ledet.com/margulis/ACT_postings/ACT.htm Dan Margulis – Applied Color Theory Archive
A certified CMYK junkie – this site is a must-read for color management and prepress specialists (photographers and RGB folks – read at your own risk!).
- brucelindbloom.com/ Bruce Lindbloom's Color Web Site
OK – this site may be above the knowledge-base of 99% of us (the guy is a color scientist, afterall) – but it contains a wealth of information and target files and is well-worth the time spent perusing it, even if it's over our heads.
- www.chromix.com/ Color Management, Custom ICC Profiles, ColorSync, Tools, Systems and Software
Be sure to check out the ColorSmarts tab and subscribe to their ColorNews newsletter – while you're at it, check out the back issues. There is tons of information packed into those, highlighted by an article in each by company president Steve Upton.
- www.apple.com/pro/color/ Apple – Pro – Hot Topic : Color
Though having an "Apple" slant, still a good site for some information about color.
- www.photoshopnews.com/ Photoshop News and Information
Their headline says it all – "The latest news and info about the top pixel-wrangling application on the planet."
- www.digitaldog.net/ Articles on Imaging Written by Andrew Rodney
Offers information on color management, Photoshop, electronic and digital imaging. Be sure to check out the Tips and Links hookups for even more information.
- www.creativepro.com/front/home Creativepro.co – Resources for Creative Professionals
I highlighted Bruce Fraser's material on this site above, but the site itself deserves a bookmark for designers, photographers, and digital imaging folks.
- gretagmacbeth.com/index/support/library-1.htm GretagMacbeth Color Library
Color library, glossary, and additional resources to check out (an extensive glossary and list).
- www.colorvision.com/index_us.html Colorvision – Color Management and Color Calibration
Check out the "Learning" tab on the righthand side of the navigation bar.
- hutchcolor.com/Free_stuff.html Free Color Targets, Information and Utilities
Everything from Photoshop actions to test targets and spreadsheets.
- www.colorremedies.com/library.html Color Remedies™ : Library
Articles and links about color management.
